

Sunday, September 21, 2014

GIK's Glenn Kuras, his wife Shelly, and master sound tech Bryan Pape presented tips to help with the sound in our rooms and used three different pieces of their gear to totally change the sound quality of the Training Room. This was arguably the best quality of sound we have ever heard there! The treatment was so effective that we removed two of the acoustic panels to get back to a livelier sound. Glenn & Shelly announced at the end of the meeting that GIK would donate two sets of Tri-Traps (Bass traps) to the club. They also provide free advice on enhancing your room through their website. Click Here to go there. Read the Minutes for more Click Here

Integrity High-Fidelity Solutions owner, Joseph Strovas, introduced his wife Leslie, and then spoke briefly about the equipment he had brought. He then turned the program over to Julian Margules the designer and builder of the Margules Audio Equipment. Julian is a graduate Electrical Engineer, MSEE, whose family has a long history of building audio equipment in Mexico. For an engineer type, with English not his first language, Julian gave a very interesting and understandable presentation on the equipment he had built. He was able to accommodate both the techies and the rest of us in his explanations! After his Q&A period, we got to listen to the equipment some more and the sound was wonderful! At the end of the meeting, Joseph announced that A-VCOA members would receive a 25% discount on everything he sells! Way to go Joseph!! Click Here to go to his website.